One day I wrote her name upon the strand”

I once scrawled her name on the shore, but the waves later came and wiped it away:

Once more, I wrote it by hand.

4But the wave arrived and turned my suffering into his prey.

"Vain man," she replied, "that dost in vain assay, A mortal thing so to immortalize; For I myself shall like to this decay, And eke my name be wiped out likewise."

"Not so," I said, "let cruder things devise."

To die in dust, but you will live by fame: According to my verse, your exceptional merits will endure, and the heavens will bear your great name.

When death conquers the entire globe, our love will endure and become stronger with time.
